Monday:

The Kingdom of God; A foundational understanding of the Kingdom of God helps you to be able to see everything else in your life in proper perspective. It's not hard to understand the kingdom when you're going through a good time, but if you're a kingdom person, you can also see it when you're going through times of testing and trials.

Learn to relate to God as Father. It's the experiential knowledge, where you and Him interact with one another. The Bible, in itself, is not a substitute for our relationship with the Father.

Grace is the anti-venom for dead, lifeless, legalistic rules and rule-oriented religion.

I'd be really surprised if you are not going through some of the most intense trials and testings in your relationships that you've ever gone through. It's in relationships that you learn how to do the most important thing in life, and that is to love.

Exponential growth happens in the body of Christ when everybody commits themselves not to just come to church and get fed, but to get fed and equipped for the work of the ministry.

You carry more than you understand and more than you realize. Your presence makes a difference in any room that you go in to.

Tuesday:

I made a little Facebook post this last week and said, "Thank you Charlie, I think you lit a fire, a good fire", and nobody would have had any idea at that point how big of a fire that lit, on the side of good, and also on the side of bad.

I can't believe that in a free nation, there's so many people celebrating the fact that Charlie got shot. It's unbelievable! Some people's thoughts are like, "If they don't agree with us, we will kill them". But that tells you that we are in the end times.

Have you thought more lately about getting your life right? That's not just you. That's the Spirit of God. "No man come to the Father unless the Father draws him". That's what's happening all over the world right now.

The Father needs people like you, real kingdom people, who are in relationship with the Lord. It's the sons and daughters who are going to do the heavy lifting in this great move of God that's happening right now. You're equipped for that.

I'm giving you instructions on what seems to be working the best for me. You have to test this out. Just take the time with the Lord. It's not just reading your Bible or praying, but taking that time with Him, with no agenda and just listening. The most important thing I'm doing in my life right now is listening.

Wednesday:

The things that God is doing in you is not just for you, but for the people in your circle of influence, the people that are around you that get touched. That's your inheritance! God wants you to be the kingdom person in whatever picture you're in.

I'm so grateful to God that I'm living in a time that these things are coming to a head like they are, because the world has never seen the stuff that we're seeing now. You ought to be feeling the same way.

When I talk about hearing God, at first you just think you hear Him. I think it helps if you say something out loud and declare it. Sometimes it just has that ring to it and you just know, but sometimes you don't know if it's God or not, until you add your faith to that and step out, and God begins to reveal that to you.

I didn't give my life to this to have some kind of religious club. I gave my life to this so we could experience the fullness of what God wants us to experience in our lives. That's what our house is about.

Charlie Kirk's assassination was a spiritual assassination of the highest order. The enemy overplayed his hand, as he often does, to shut the mouths of the truth talkers, but it caused truth talkers to rise up all over the planet, so it blew up in the his face.

Thursday:

The enemy is not done, and has issued an order to take down kingdom people, especially leaders, by whatever means possible. So, pray for me, and be praying for all of us around here.

Be praying for your leaders all over, not just here, because it's an important time for leaders to listen, discern and tell the truth of what God is saying to them. The spiritual battle that we're in is raging at a level the world has never seen before.

I just know that the stakes are really high, for the eternal security for people, and eternity hangs in the balance.

The church mindset is that everything happens when you come to church on Sunday. But I know better than that. Most of it is going to happen out there in your daily life.

The Lord has said to me that the spiritual battle is raging at a level the world has never seen before. There will be casualties. The casualties would be those who are oblivious to the move of God, people who don't even understand. They're still going through the church motions, doing the same thing they've always done.

Friday:

For leaders out there, this is not a time to do what you've always done. This is the time to saddle up. It's a time to gird up and start moving in what God is saying. Those straddling the fence, partially committed, those standing on the sidelines wondering "which way they went". That shouldn't be you.

Believers are moving, and they're finding their faith to be stronger than they thought it was. They're moving in a whole new level of faith, especially those of the next generation.

God knows what He is doing and what really matters is what He is doing in you, in your heart.

The next generation that's coming on needs the wisdom. They need people who've gone through the fire. They need people who've made mistakes in their life and know how to help those of the next generation; you're needed right now. That's the people of my generation. The importance of your life is more important now than ever before.

There's never been a better time, or a more critical time, to go all in with your life. It's critical for you. The things that have been deposited in you here are needed right now, during this time, and you don't know what all you have in you, until you get into situations where they pull those things out of you.

Saturday:

If you are serious about the things of God, these things are no longer an option. It's really mandatory. "To whom much is given, much is required". "If you are faithful in a little, God will bless you with more".

We are living in a time where those things are really coming to pass. You are not just a person in the congregation. You are more important to the move of God than you have even understood that you are. He needs you. So, do some business on that.

The quality of your life, and everything about your life, and everyone you're in contact with, depends on it. You've been set up for this. Almost all of you in here think you're not ready, but you're readier than you understand that you are.

You might be saying, "What do I do to get into that?" Find out!!! Get face to face with the Father, and listen to what He's saying about your life, about how you fit into this, because you do fit into it.

We have kind of spoiled people around here by giving them the notes. So don't get these notes just so you can stay up. You get the notes so you can get a better understanding of the things that we talk about, so you can minister these things out there. And nothing ticks me off any worse than to walk out of here and there will be 3-4 notes laying around on the seats. Don't you be doing that.

The greatest awakening of all time is happening right now. Don't be sitting on your hands.
